SpreadsheetConverter is a very simple and handy add-in that will allow you to easily convert your Excel spreadsheets to HTML or Flash formats. Additionally, it will allow you to customize the resulting output files as you wish, by adding specific text, hyperlinks, sliders or even action buttons. was released in late 2002. "P.U.R.C.A.T.S" wasn't exactly one of those metal-mainstream success stories.

But a funny thing happened this year: They had a breakthrough and an amazing US tour with Killswitch Engage. What happened next was the result of that tour.

They made a third album, "Carved Into Stone", and it became their most successful. Their other two albums though are amazing. A friend of mine told me the story of how this band came to be. He said, "A man goes into a 7-Eleven and buys a sandwich. In the back is a man in a cover band playing a guitar and playing the radio. On the radio was a guy named John 5. He is obviously really good. Then a band comes out of nowhere and starts playing, and they're really good. The band gets a lot of attention. They get offered to record their next album. They start thinking about it, but something comes up and they decide to do something else instead. Then, a few months later, they get called back to do their album, and they think they might as well accept. This time though, they decide they want a new drummer. They think about it, and end up choosing this guy. They start rehearsing for the album, and a drummer ends up going to another band, and so they have to replace him. The drummer they chose didn't like the band name, and thought they should pick a new name. He ended up naming them after one of his favorite movies. He liked the movie, and it kinda fit them, so he did it. The guy is

What's New in the SpreadsheetConverter?

My thoughts: I was originally a big fan of SpreadsheetConverter, until I started to research whether it was possible to convert Excel and Word files to HTML. I've come to the conclusion that it is possible to do this and that it is not a problem to convert certain kinds of files, like Word or Excel, to HTML, but it is not a good idea to convert Word and Excel to HTML, because they lose all formatting and its data will look very ugly on websites and in email. What do you mean by it can't be used for this? And, why > not? Please elaborate. Hi! > SpreadsheetConverter can't be used for this, as it can only convert > entire files. If you have Office 2007, the following functionality > is available in the Ribbon section: > > -> Convert > HTML > -> Convert to XML > -> Generate Flash Thanks, and so is ExcelConverter, but you can only convert whole files, and not only part of a file. > and that you can > either share the HTML page or, > > -> Convert > HTML > Share > -> SpreadsheetConverter can convert a single > file into HTML, but only if it is a Word, PowerPoint or > Excel 2007 file. If you are using Office 2003, > it is possible to save the file as a web archive, and then > convert it into a web archive. That can also be done by > ExcelConverter. I would love to see a comparison between ExcelConverter and SpreadsheetConverter. I have never used SpreadsheetConverter, but ExcelConverter does a great job for Excel 2007 spreadsheets. > So if you are using > Excel 2003, you can do something like this: (In reply to alex.pandro from comment #16) > Does ExcelConverter has the same functionality > of SpreadsheetConverter, but with Excel 2003 > and XLS files? > > Thanks > > Alex.
