BH Casual is a wonderfully fun multiplayer game that gets you to play off of each other and makes you feel like a DARE-like game. It is a wonderful game mode and a perfect demo for anyone who is a fan of cooperatives! Quite simply, when people play with their friends in VR this is what this is all about. If you love to party, play off of each other, and laugh at other people's bad performance then BH Casual is a wonderful game to play and perfect for your VR gameplay sessions. A great time-killer with plenty of fun to be had and if you want to compete then we all can guarantee that you will have some intense rounds of this casual game! BH Casual is a cooperative type game that, at first, might seem a little silly to play. It follows a "DARE" style of play where you play off of your opponent. The game is very easy to learn how to play. When you hit your button it provides you with "virtual drinks" for your buddies which will advance your timeline faster. This is where the game gets exciting. Each game has a timer where you all need to beat the clock and out perform your opponent. You will need to quickly prioritize people's needs to move forward. There is even a price to the hour so you know who you need to help first and worst to be with! The focus of the game is creating a cooperative team that beats the clock. The groups will need to coordinate. You need to prioritize who needs the "drinks" the most. The focus is not on winning the games as much as the focus is on helping others to beat the clock. There are a few multiplayer game modes where you compete to see who will beat the clock first. For example, Basket Ball, and "Don't Stop". There are also a few match-ups that involve you all being in the same room playing. Because this is a VR game, you are all focused on the same screen. The interaction is wonderful when your facing each other. You are not looking at the game on your phone in front of you. You are fully focused on the game. What makes this game stand out from any other cooperative game is the way that you use your teammates. You will need to all be on the same page to out perform your opponent! There is a bit of a learning curve to the game mode. You need to make sure that everyone in the cooperative knows what their
