Insights on the use of near infrared spectroscopy to assess lipid parameters in healthy subjects and type 2 diabetic patients. In this study, we investigated the use of near infrared spectroscopy (NIRS) to predict the determination of triacylglycerol- (TG), high-density lipoprotein cholesterol (HDL-C), total cholesterol (TC), and low-density lipoprotein cholesterol (LDL-C). In addition, we assessed the effect of the fasting state on the ability of NIRS to predict lipid parameters in plasma samples. Healthy subjects ($n = 33$) and type 2 diabetic patients ($n = 32$) were enrolled. The predicted values of the lipid parameters were calculated using an artificial neural network (ANN). We observed a correlation between the actual values obtained with the traditional laboratory method and predicted values obtained by ANN ($R^2 = 0.932$ to 0.996). Moreover, the correlation coefficient (R^2) and regression of the predicted values obtained by ANN was 0.921 to 0.995 and 0.922 to 0.996 . However, the fasting state influenced the ability of NIRS to predict the lipid parameters. Overall, NIRS was capable of predicting lipid parameters with a high correlation, regardless of the fasting state of the subjects. In addition, NIRS showed better accuracy in predicting the lipid parameters in the healthy subjects.

30x30x2mm Material:Durex, 100% Washed Durex is a very popular condom brand, which has been on the market for many years, every male has used them at some time in his life. They are very soft and pliable, so will go on most very easily, but also very wet and slippery. Not for those planning to have their first sexual intercourse or those who want a more sensitive experience, as the 100% washed ones are more rubbery and therefore less slippery. In our opinion, it's the perfect condom, if you are looking for a well-fitting condom that is high quality and affordable.

TRENTON, N.J. (CBSNewYork) — If you drive within the boundaries of New Jersey, you're going to see the state's new billboards — some of them warning drivers of certain dangers. What's New In?

Hi again guys, I am back with a new design for (hopefully) the last time for today. I made it in Maya because I felt kind of comfortable with it, then I came in here with the intention of try to use the software again (to the extent of being able to post a tutorial) and I gave up again (although I have had the feeling that my skills have improved a lot in the last few months). Here we go: Good old Vincenzo! This is the helmet that I made before, but I didn't like the headband so I replaced it. In that case, I placed the back hat's front part in front of the hat's back part (the two tiny parts of the original one) and then I rotated the two parts that made the headband to get to the exact shape: After having done that, I turned the helmet in a 90 degrees angle and finally I "distanced" the new parts, subtracted the old ones and added a geometry like this: This is an old tutorial I made with some time ago, but I didn't post it cause I didn't use Maya that much at that time. But now it's time to tell you how to make the headband part in Maya... I saw that some people had used very complicated methods for that and actually I found a very simple method... Use a part (made of two curves) that attaches to the hat's back part and then add another curve for the headband... Good luck! See you
